MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE

We have received files of Richmond papers to Saturday last, the 24th inst., from which we take the following extracts:

LEE'S LAST FAILURE.

From the Richmond Examiner, Oct. 22.

It is scarcely time to form a correct estimate of the late events on the Rapidan and the Rappahannock. No full account of the facts, or explanation of the causes which led to the failure, has yet been received from a Confederate source. The enemy's accounts are equally minute and exultant, and they are so far confirmed by the abbreviated and desiccated telegrams sent under "military censorship," that we are only justified in describing the late affair as an attempt by LEE to interpose a corps of his army between a large portion of MEADE's force at Culpepper, and Washington. If he had have succeeded, the result would have permanently cured the Army of the Potomac of its chronic disease, the Prurigo Richmondensis, or Itch for Richmond. Unfortunately the enemy became cognizant of the plan at the moment of its execution, and retreated with sufficient deliberation to destroy all their stores that they did not carry off, to the fortifications of Centreville. It is impossible to follow them, for the country is a desert in which our army could not live, while the enemy would be at the door of his magazines in Washington.

One fight—apparently between a division of the Confederate army and a larger body of the enemy—occurred during the movement, in which we lost 450 prisoners, 5 pieces of cannon, and were generally worsted. Why such a fight occurred cannot now be said. It can scarcely have been the intention of LEE to pit one division against two army corps. At present the collision bears the appearance of an ambuscade, or of a blunder, which was not redeemed by energy or conduct. There are Generals who have the gift of inspiring their troops with their own gallantry, and there are Generals who have not that gift. It would appear that Lewisburgh, Gettysburgh, and Bristoe Station are illustrations of this truth.

In the meantime, the loss at that place was far more than counterbalanced by successes elsewhere. Against MEADE's 450 prisoners LEE has placed 1,200; and the campaign in Northern Virginia has closed for the season nearly at the spot where it began two years ago, with the enemy in retreat, and our own army victorious, though baffled.

From the Richmond Enquirer, Oct. 23.

ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA,
CULPEPPER COURT-HOUSE, Oct. 20, 1863.

Gen. LEE having finished the work of demolition of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad from Bristoe Station back as far as the Rappahannock bridge, and having driven MEADE to the heights of Centreville, it became a military expedient, if not a necessity, for him to recross the Rappahannock, which has been accordingly done.

My last letter was written you from Bristoe Station. On Saturday evening, in conformity with my promise, I started in company with a medical friend to visit the plains of Manassas, now historic because of the two great battles fought upon them. On arriving at Manassas Junction, however, we met our cavalry, then leaving there for Groveton, and did not deem it safe that we should go further, lest we might be "gobbled up" by the Yankee cavalry, and compelled to go a good deal further. On returning to camp, I found that orders had been issued for two days' rations, and orders to call in the detailed men, preparatory to a move, which was generally supposed to be backwards. At 2 o'clock Sunday morning the head of the column moved promptly, EWELL's corps moved back to Bealeton, following the line of the railroad. HETH's and WILCOX's divisions, of A. P. HILL's corps, had previously moved back to Bealeton, in order to destroy the railroad. ANDERSON's division, of HILL's corps, moved back to Bealeton via Greenwich and Auburn, a route somewhat more circuitous. With this column I came along. The two columns, which had diverged on leaving Bristoe, converged again at Bristoe. But on account of the lack of water at Bealeton, ANDERSON's division was compelled to come further on, within a mile of the Rappahannock River, where it halted Sunday evening about dusk, having been on the tramp for sixteen hours, and passed over a distance of nearly thirty miles with scarcely any stragglers. It was, indeed, a grand spectacle to behold MAHONE's brigade of this division, which has been pronounced by Gen. LEE (at the time the two corps were reviewed in Orange) the best in the army in point of drill, discipline and fighting qualities, as it moved into camp, keeping time to martial music, as if on a holiday occasion, and marching with all the elegance and precision of veterans, after one of the longest marches known in the army. This brigade is composed of the Sixth Virginia, (MAHONE's old regiment,) Col. ROGERS; Sixty-first Virginia, Col. GRONER; Forty-first, Col. PARHAM; Twelfth, Col. WEISIGER, and the Sixteenth, Col. WHITEHEAD. A prominent officer of the army, standing near, observed to me that he never had seen such a sight before, and that he did not think that any other brigade in the army could keep up so well. On a march of this kind the infantry usually move four abreast. Not only did MAHONE move into camp in this fashion, but he passed along his entire route, with all his men in their proper places without straggling. He is a most capital officer—a Brigadier of two years' standing—and a military man by education. He would make a most capital division officer, and the wonder is that he has not been promoted ere this. This is not by way of puffing, but in telling the truth. So much by way of digression.

Another night in camp, and soon day breaks, finding the camp all astir, and the troops ready to move. The morning, however, is chilly, and my horse trembles as if seized with an ague. After partaking of breakfast, I push on to the river. Here I find the fortifications thrown up by the Yankees to protect the railroad bridge, which in their retreat they not only burnt, but also blew up one of the stone piers in order to prevent our repairing it readily. Failing in with WILCOX's old brigade, I pass to the south side of the Rappahannock over the pontoon bridge, the river being too high for fording. On the south side of the river there are also works thrown up by the Yankees, for the protection of the railway bridge.

From this point back, even as far as Culpepper Court house, the atmosphere for every hundred yards is impregnated with the stench of dead horses, which lie about on every hand. I also saw a dead Yankee unburied, not more than two miles from Culpepper Court-house. How any of the human species can live in a land filled with such offensive odors, and literally now a barren waste, passes my comprehension. Yankee bones bleach every hillside of this part of the Old Dominion—no less living monuments to the bravery of our Southern race than they are imperishable memorials of the folly of the crusade upon which our foes have embarked.

The troops have all, doubtless, recrossed. The enemy attempted no advance upon our retiring columns. If, indeed, they knew of it. Thus you see the campaign is over. Its results are briefly summed up: We have captured about 1,500 of the enemy with some small arms, killed and wounded at least as many more, and torn up the Orange and Alexandria Railroad for twenty-five miles, with a loss of not over 1,200 in killed and wounded, some few prisoners, and four pieces of artillery (those lost by HILL's corps at Bristoe Station. Whether the game was worth the candle I will not attempt to decide. Some think we have done wonders. It has only taken ten days to do all this.

ARMY NORTHERN VIRGINIA,
BRISTOE STATION, VA., Thursday, Oct. 15, 1863.

It is certainly a little singular, and a fact calling for explanation, that a pursuing army should have its artillery captured by its retreating adversary. It must have resulted from gross mismanagement somewhere. But, as at present advised, I am not prepared to fix the blame. Gen. COOK, who commanded the two brigades, says, as I am informed, that his men fought well, but that they were not properly supported, the supports being more than a mile in rear; and that, further, that his men had to move upon the enemy in a line running somewhat at right angles with the enemy, so that he had to encounter, at the same time, a superior force in front, and on his flank, or rather in his rear. This may or may not be the explanation; I cannot say. I made efforts to find Gen. COOK, but was unable to do so. I passed over the field to-day: it is immediately at the railway station. The ground on our side, and over which we charged at the Yankees, is an open field, skirted at its further edge by pine forest. As soon as our men emerged from this forest they were exposed to the raking fire from the enemy's batteries, which were situated on a crest just below the railroad station. This crest was the highest elevation in the neighborhood. The open field of which I have spoken terminates in a high bank on the upper side of the railroad, and it was behind this that the enemy were concealed, and from which they poured their murderous fire upon our men, and one that succeeded in driving them completely back. No further effort was made yesterday evening to dislodge them. This morning the Yankee bird had flown.

STUART has kept the cavalry quite active since this movement began, and JONES' brigade, which has been in the advance, has been specially active and serviceable. Gen. STUART has commanded in person and headed the advance, and has fought the enemy from James City in Madison, on Saturday evening, back to this point. At one time on Tuesday evening the enemy contrived to cut off STUART's communication with Gen. LEE, but this was readily restored on Wednesday morning, at which time the First North Carolina Cavalry captured a whole regiment of Yankee infantry, but being heavily pressed by a large column of the enemy, were compelled to relinquish their hold upon them. At this time, I am told that Col. RUFFIN of this regiment was killed.

MEADE can truthfully say that Gen. LEE has broken up his (MEADE's) Winter quarters; for from Culpepper to Bristoe the Yankees had constructed their huts and cabins. And here at Bristoe they had torn down an elegant new house to get the weather boarding to construct huts for their Winter occupation.

The country people hereabouts are loud in their praises of MOSBY. They say that he has done the Yankee great harm, besides compelling the enemy to keep at least fifteen thousand men as a railway guard, and preventing straggling and raiding parties from going through the country committing depredations.

THE OPERATIONS IN EAST TENNESSEE.

From the Richmond Examiner, Oct. 24.

By private letter from a highly respectable and trustworthy citizen of Bristol, dated Abingdon, Oct. 19, we have the only authentic account of the last raid of the Yankees upon Bristol and the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad. At the time of the incursion of the enemy the telegraph brought us the most alarming accounts, stating the number of the enemy to be unward of ten thousand, that they were sweeping everything before them, and were making their way toward the saltworks, which, it was very strongly intimated our troops would not be able to protect, as they had not been able, by reason of the overwhelming force of the enemy, to protect Bristol and the railroad. In two days after these first accounts, others were received giving information that the enemy had fallen back to Bristol, and were believed to be retreating. This movement of the enemy it was difficult to understand, as we had been taught to believe their force was so superior to ours as to make it next to madness for us to attempt to check their career.

The extract we give from the letter abovementioned will explain why the enemy retreated—why we retreated to Abingdon cannot, we fear, be so satisfactorily explained. We quote from the letter:

"I returned from Bristol yesterday evening. The enemy did very little damage there, and left on Friday evening after a sojourn of twenty-four hours. Their army marched through the town in pursuit of our men, and to within seven miles of Abingdon. They left a Provost guard in Bristol to prevent pilfering. They took off all the horses and mules they could find along their route, and burnt several small bridges between this place and Bristol. In Bristol they burnt twenty-five freight cars, injured three, crippled locomotives, and tore up a considerable extent of railroad. Their force, as stated by stragglers who were captured, was about 3,000 men. This statement is confirmed by the actual count of two citizens of Bristol. Our force was near 4,000. I leave you to draw your own conclusions. The enemy has now gone beyond Zollicoffer, burning the railroad bridge and tearing up the track at that place."

Through another source we are informed that our forces in that quarter, having heard of the blow inflicted upon the enemy at Philadelphia by Gen. CARTER STEVENSON, have plucked up heart and ventured again into Tennessee.

Our Government do not seem alive to the importance of retaining this country. The people of the Confederacy were sorely cast down by the loss of Vicksburgh. The value of Vicksburgh to us was nothing compared with that of East Tennessee. Vicksburgh afforded us nothing; from East Tennessee and the adjacent counties of North Carolina and Virginia we are to draw the meat upon which the army are to be fed during the current and the coming years.

ANOTHER VICTORY IN TENNESSEE.

CAPTURE OF SEVEN HUNDRED YANKEES, SIX PIECES OF ARTILLERY, ETC.

Official Dispatch.

CHICKAMAUGA, Wednesday, Oct. 21.

To Gen. S. Cooper:

CHARLESTON, Tenn., Oct. 20.

The cavalry, under MORRISON and DIBRELL, attacked the enemy's cavalry in force at Philadelphia to-day, capturing about four hundred prisoners, their artillery, small arms, camp equipage, &c. Our loss nothing. They are in pursuit of the enemy, who are entirely routed.

CHARLESTON, Tenn., Oct. 21.

The enemy were pursued to their defences at Loudon, and arrived there after dark. The force there is not known. Their loss is seven hundred prisoners, fifty wagons loaded with stores, ten ambulances, six pieces of artillery, a lot of horses, mules and other property.

(Signed,) BRAXTON BRAGG.

THE SPEECH OF JEFF. DAVIS.

From the Chattanooga Rebel.

In the serenading speech of President DAVIS, reported in our telegraphic columns of yesterday morning, something is said about the "shafts of malice" which have been hurled against Gen. BRAGG, who, in contradiction thereto, is pronounced "a military commander of the first order."

We do not object to a free expression of opinion at all times, and feel no disposition to quarrel with a man because he is not of our way of thinking, but here the license stops. Mr. DAVIS has a right to puff Gen. BRAGG to his heart's content, but he has no right to descend to the undignified game of stigmatizing those who cannot agree with him. By going out of his way to inveigh against the thousands of patriotic citizens whose homes, and fortunes and families have been, in common with the interests of the whole country, sacrificed to the blundering lunacy of this man, the President offers a gratuitous insult, which irritates but cannot convert.

God, in his wisdom and glory, can bear witness to the purity of those who believe in their hearts that BRAXTON BRAGG is not only no General, but that he is opposed to all freedom—of the Press and of personal liberty—and the most dangerous centre of power in the Confederate States.

THE SOUTHWEST AND THE WAR.

From the Chattanooga Rebel.

Who shall succeed Gen. BRAGG? Shall it be LONGSTREET? Or JOE JOHNSTON? Or shall we see the great LEE himself, with all his glory, out in the West? It is one of the prettiest of themes; for whilst it ensures a riddance of one leader, as unfortunate as he is unpopular, it possesses all the charm of novelty, and of fresh hope, interest and courage. For we cotton-tots, like the French, are a volatile people, and come to rapid conclusions. It is our mood to decapitate a General as quickly as cut a Yankee's throat, when he does not please us; and seeing that Gen. BRAGG has had a fair trial and a long test, and that, despite his one victory at Chickamauga, he fails to please us, it is generally conceded that he will go the way of all flesh, and make way for some one likely to do better. It may be, alas, that we will yet sing a dirge of lament over BRAXTON BRAGG. Who knows? The ways of war, as those of Providence, are inscrutable. Yet, meanwhile—for sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof—who shall be his successor? It is not whether BRAGG is to be or not to be. It is: Who takes his place? That's the question. A Daniel has at last come to judgment, and his wits are already on the lookout peak.

LIEUT.-GEN. POLK.

A paragraph in one of the Atlanta papers, giving an account of the suspension of Gen. POLK from his command, has done injustice to the veteran soldier. We learn, says the South Carolinian, from the best authority, that the suspension was unnecessary and hasty, and that upon investigation he will be entirely vindicated from the charges against him. In fact, there is every reason to believe that the charges will be withdrawn, and the Court of Inquiry dispensed with. In expressing this conviction we are sure that it will give satisfaction to the country, which has the highest confidence in the military ability of Gen. POLK.—Savannah Republican.

REWARD FOR RUCKER.

The Governor has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of RUCKER, who escaped from the Pittsylvania County jail on the night of Sunday last. It is believed that a "woman was in the case," as one was in the neighborhood with a buggy the day previous, pretending to buy up specie among the negroes. Immediately after RUCKER's escape, search was made for the woman, but she and buggy too had disappeared. We conclude that RUCKER, by this time, is safe within the friendly lines of the enemy, and we shall never see his like again. The law's delay, in this instance at least, has favored the culprit.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A letter in the Memphis Appeal says:

"The President, attended by Gens. BRAGG and LONGSTREET, started on a review this morning. The President was, during a portion of the time, within one thousand yards of the Federal batteries. The Federal pickets, during the review, were in plain sight.

The Confederate steamer Venus ran aground yesterday while coming into the port of Wilmington, N. C., and her valuable cargo of assorted commissary and quartermaster stores is said to be an utter loss. She had on board a large quantity of bacon.

MERIDEN, Miss., Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Official information states that the Yankees are rapidly retreating to the Big Black, pursued by our cavalry. On their retreat they burned some houses in Clinton.

President DAVIS left this afternoon for Enterprise.

CHARLESTON, Wednesday, Oct. 21.

A reconnoitering party of the enemy, in barges, was discovered near Fort Sumter last night, between 12 and 1 o'clock, and driven off with grapeshot.

Gen. FORREST's resignation has not been accepted, and he has left Atlanta to enter upon a separate command.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 26.

ALLEGED FRAUDS UPON THE GOVERNMENT.

On Friday last Mr. WILLIAMSON, of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Relief Association, and Dr. BLOSS, of the Michigan Relief Association, were arrested by Col. BAKER, on a charge of stealing Government property—rags, lint, &c., alleged to be the refuse in rooms which they were vacating, and which they sold to a paper manufacturer. The proceeds were deposited in JAY, COOK & Co.'s Bank to the credit of their Relief Association. The constant theft of military property seemingly justified this arrest. WILLIAMSON is being incarcerated here, and BLOSS in Michigan, where he was on a visit. But the refusal of their requests to be allowed to explain the transaction alleged to be felonious, and to summon reputable witnesses to prove their innocence, gives a character to the proceeding which will lead to a rather public investigation to-morrow evening, in which some very influential as well as very indignant men will take a part.

CONCERNING THE DRAFT.

The quota of Pennsylvania in the next draft is 38,709. The one month's advanced pay allowed to volunteers by the resolution of Congress July 21, 1862, will be paid to recruits for old organizations, enlisted under the recent orders, immediately upon their arrival at the general rendezvous.

THE MEXICAN MINISTER.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 26.

THE BLOCKADE OF THE TEXAS COAST.

Lieut. WM. H. DANA, in the Cayuga, has been successful in destroying by fire two schooners on the coast of Louisiana, loaded with powder of French manufacture. Commander ROLANDO, of the United States steamer Seminole, off Sabine Pass, has informed Commander BELL that the steamers Clifton and Sachem, with three cotton-clad steamers, were daily seen steaming in the river there. From all the information Commander ROLANDO could obtain, he inferred that every blockade runner, either from or into Mobile, has been captured, and that the coast of Texas will be henceforth the principal theatre for blockade runners. Acting Rear-Admiral LEE, in a telegram dated from Newport's News, yesterday, says the Newbern has arrived from Beaufort, with five hundred barrels of tar and crude turpentine. The Nansemond has driven ashore the Venus, one of the largest and swiftest of the blockade runners, with a valuable cargo. She is totally destroyed.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM BURNSIDE.

Reports from Gen. BURNSIDE, received yesterday, show that he is rendering good service in East Tennessee, and has repeatedly driven back the reconnoitering parties of the rebels.

THE REINFORCEMENT OF BRAGG.

It is not known in military circles that BRAGG has recently been reinforced from LEE's army, nor is it believed.

REBEL PRISONERS TO BE EXCHANGED.

MONEY FOR THE SOLDIERS.

The Treasury Department has recently sent $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 to the West for the payment of troops.

THE SUPPLIES FOR THE ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND.

Active operations by the Army of the Cumberland have been retarded in consequence of complete and safe communication for supplies not having yet been established. But they soon will be perfect.

THE FUNDS ON THE STEAMER RUTH.

To-day the Treasurer received another package of notes from the wreck of the steamer Ruth. This furnishes additional proof that all the money as alleged—$3,000,000—was on board at the time of the fire.

THE STATIONERY CONTRACT.

The contract for supplying stationery to the Post-office Department, has been awarded to PHILIP & SOLOMAN, of Washington.

AFFAIRS AT CHATTANOOGA.

CINCINNATI, Monday, Oct. 26.

The Gazette has a special dispatch from Chattanooga, dated the 24th inst., which says:

Gen. GRANT arrived here yesterday.

Deserters from the rebel army report that Gen. BRECKINRIDGE's and Gen. HINDMAN's forces are withdrawn from our front, and moving in large bodies to our left. The object of the movement is not known.

Rumors are afloat that Atlanta and Rome have been attacked in the rear.

The river is high and rising.

The weather is cold.

The roads are bad.

All is quiet.

THE WAR IN MISSISSIPPI.

An Important Movement—Canton Captured by Gen. McPherson.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Thursday, Oct. 22.

Gen. MCPHERSON on the 15th instant came up with the rebels near Canton, Miss. After a short fight the rebels retreated, leaving two hundred prisoners in our hands.

Gen. MCPHERSON now occupies Canton.

THE QUOTA OF NEW-YORK.

ALBANY, Monday, Oct. 26.

Gov. Seymour:

Sixty thousand three hundred and seventy-eight (60,378) is the correct quota of New-York under the Proclamation of Oct. 17. The quota was subdivided for the different divisions, and perhaps the mistake originated in that way.

(Signed,) JAS. B. FRY,
Provost-Marshal-General.

Gen. FRY also advises Gov. SEYMOUR that New-York was deficient on the 17th of October 47,657 men; so that the whole number of volunteers to be raised before January next to avoid a new draft is 108,035.

AMERICAN TOPICS.

THE SEIZURE OF THE RAMS.

The London Times, in commenting on the seizure of the rams in the Mersey, says:

"It concerns us all, however, that the law should not be evaded, and that is why the public has felt a species of satisfaction in the detention of these now famous steamers. It is not for us, nor for any one, to prejudge the decision of the tribunal before which the case will come. We are only glad to find that that hearing is now secure, and that the suspected vessels will either leave the Mersey with clean bills of right or not leave at all. We should like to see our shipbuilders standing boldly and openly upon their claims as neutral traders. The trade in question is either right or wrong. If right, there is no reason why Government should trouble itself with "anxious inquiries." If wrong, what is really unlawful should not be left practicable by evasion. As to the expediency or inexpediency of the law as it now stands, that is another question altogether. We are now concerned only with what is, not with what ought to be. In due time we shall learn what is the case for the prosecution, and what the case for the defendants. Whether the suspicions which have prevailed in the matter are reasonably entertained, or whether, even in such case, the venture is actually an unlawful venture are questions to be decided hereafter without prejudice or bias. In the interval we know only this, that certain vessels suspected of a destination like that of the Alabama will not be allowed to slip out as the Alabama did.

THE LIVERPOOL EMANCIPATION SOCIETY AND THE STEAM RAMS.

To the Right Hon. Earl Russell, K. G., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs:

MY LORD: With great respect we call your Lordship's attention to the following circumstances:

As your Lordship is aware, the steamships Alabama and Florida were built in this port, fitted out, manned and armed, mainly by British subjects, and, having been placed under the flag of the so-styled Confederate States, have been employed in injuring the commerce as a nation with which Her Majesty is at peace.

The commanders of these ships, instead of awaiting the decision of duly authorized Prize Courts, have burned their captures at sea, or put them to ransom, even though much of the cargo belonged to neutrals. A new practice, little removed from piracy, is thus likely to become in a manner legalized. The precedents now being established may one day prove as injurious to Great Britain as they now are to the United States.

The fact that these ships have been thus built and equipped has naturally excited much ill-feeling on the part of our kinsmen on the other side of the Atlantic; nor does the allegation that our laws cannot reach the offenders tend to allay it. They naturally say that if the statute law does not cover the offence, it is the duty of Government to make such alterations as will meet the difficulty; and they point to the fact that when a party in Canada took up arms to sever the connection between the colony and the mother country, and it was feared that the sympathies of a portion of the American people might lead to altercations with the British Government, they at once passed an act (to remain in force two years) by which the Executive was authorized to prevent vessels from sailing if there were reasonable grounds even to suspect that they would pass into the hands of the colonists in arms.

If the law of Great Britain does not prevent the building of steam-rams and other ships of war for belligerents, we respectfully submit to your lordship that an immediate revision of it should take place. The commander of the Florida has distinctly stated that his ship was built for the so-styled Confederate Government. Legal proof that she was so built, sufficient to convict the builders, may be wanting; but surely there should be some remedy for such a state of things. No Government or assumed Government, should be permitted to make use of our ports for purposes hostile to those with whom we are on friendly terms. It would, if there were no remedy, draw us into war in spite of our determination to remain neutral. The interests of our people are too vast to be thus jeopardised. We would, therefore, ask your lordship to take such measures as may be needful to obtain satisfaction for the outrages already offered to her Majesty's sovereignty, and effectually to prevent their recurrence at the hands of any persons exercising or assuming to exercise powers of Government. It was hoped that the energy displayed by your lordship in the seizure of the Alexandra would have deterred our shipbuilders from further pursuing a most mischievous trade. Unfortunately this hope has not been realized. It is notorious that, both in this port and in the Clyde, warships have been built, and are now being fitted out, with, it is believed, the object of committing hostilities against a people with whom we are on terms of amity. The fact that two of these war-ships have been launched from the yard of the builders of the notorious Alabama lends countenance and probability to the popular belief. We therefore learn with feelings of unmingled satisfaction that your Lordship has ordered the detention of tha two steam-rams built at Birkenhead, and now nearly ready for sea; and we trust that the course you have thus begun will be unflinchingly persevered in until guarantees be given that they shall not be used against any nation with which Her Majesty is at peace.

If this course should accidentally lead to any undue hardship to the builders or others of her Majesty's subjects, the nation can indemnify them for the loss sustained. A single day of hostility, or even of estrangement, between the two freest nations of the world, would be far more costly than the full mercantile value of these war ships. It is impossible for the people of the United States to observe unmoved and without resentment the part some of our fellow-subjects have acted toward them. Under similar provocation, we believe it would hardly have been possible to restrain the British nation from the strongest demonstrations of indignation, probably even from war itself. Surely our Government would do as it would be done by. In following this line of action your lordship will be sustained by the nation, and you will add yet another to the many services you have rendered in the course of a long and honorable public career.

We remain, your lordship's obedient servants,
CHARLES WILSON, Chairman.
ROBERT TRIMBLE, Secretary.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 28, 1863.

THE STEAM RAMS ON THE MERSEY.

From the London Star, Oct. 23.

The facts concerning the seizure of the steam rams appear to be as follows: On Thursday last a revenue cutter conveyed a Custom-house officer into the Great Float, and put him on board of the El Tousin. On Friday this proceeding was followed by the appearance of a second Custom-house officer, who, it is said, put the "broad arrow" on the vessel, and remained in charge of the ship. About 11 o'clock on Thursday night the Goshawk, under the command of Lieut. CREEK, acting tender to Her Majesty's ship Majestic, went into the low-water basin, which is not yet open for vessels, and remained there on Friday and Saturday. On Saturday morning Her Majesty's ship Liverpool dropped from her previous moorings and took a position in front of the entrance to the Morpeth Dock, with her fires banked, and her steam obviously up. In this condition she lay all day, and general opinion connected with her being in this position a belief that she, as well as the Goshawk, was in readiness to prevent the apprehended departure of the El Tousin. So far, however, as present appearances warrant the conjecture, this precaution was unnecessary. The suspected vessel remains moored alongside the Victoria wharf, and up to Saturday afternoon did not appear in a condition fit for sea. During the whole of the early part of Saturday, workmen were busily employed in prosecuting the different processes which would fit her for use. So far as could be observed from the quay, (no admission was allowed on board,) there was no Government officer in charge of the craft, and everything appeared to make progress in the usual way. The ship is evidently a powerful vessel. She has, or rather preparations are being made for her to have, two cupola turrets, which are far advanced in construction. Her bulwarks are made to fall down outwardly, and she has two port-holes in the stern, disagreeably suggestive of heavy "stern-chasers." Her sides are evidently strong, and armor-plated; but by far her most formidable-looking character is derived from her sullenly projecting prow.

CONTINENTAL AFFAIRS.

MAXIMILIAN AND THE MEXICAN DEPUTATION.

Correspondence of the London News.

PARIS—Sunday Evening.

The latest and, presumably, the most authentic news of the Mexican deputation charged by the "notables" to offer a throne to the Archduke MAXIMILIAN, is given by the Mémorial Diplomatique to-day, in a letter from its editor, the Chevalier DEBRAUX DE SALDAPENNA, who accompanied the deputation, quorum pars magna fuit, to Trieste. The Archduke said to M. GUTIERREZ DE ESTRADA, the President of the deputation: "Here is a map of Mexico on which I see exactly indicated the points which have rallied to the vote of your notables. You see that they only comprise the fourth part of Mexico." [Had the Archduke said the twentieth part he would have been much nearer the mark.] Although the Archduke is, as of course he would be, fully convinced that the French army will soon "deliver" the still recusant provinces, he "owes it to himself not to assume the reins of government so long as civil war continues to desolate the country." "Announce to me," he says to M. GUTIERREZ, "that the majority is 'really' acquired to my election, and I am your man in four-and-twenty hours. He is quite ready to respond to the call of Providence, but he cannot clearly see the finger of God in the matter, so long as there is any legitimate doubt about the "spontaniety" of his election. All this is a pretty pregnant condemnation of the proceedings of Marshal FOREY and his notables, according to whom the "real" and "spontaneous" election has taken place already. Thinking to strengthen his argument, the chevalier says that the moment the Emperor NAPOLEON heard of the Archduke's answer to the deputation, he wrote an autograph letter approving of it in "energetic terms." But how does this statement consist with the assertion, noticed above, that the Emperor had given his visa to the answer beforehand. This second approbation, upon the chevalier's own showing, was at best but a work of supererogation. A further revelation from Trieste is that the deputation has given up the project of seeking an interview with the Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH. The excuse presented for this change of the programme is that the deputation is in a hurry to get back to Mexico, in order to spread the news of the Archduke's acceptance, and thus to hasten the unanimous vote which he requires. My firm belief is that the Emperor of Austria would not receive them, because he is not prepared to sanction the Archduke's harum-scarum project. I do not believe that this young man will ever be Emperor of Mexico.

Paris (Oct. 12) Correspondence of the London Star.

The Mexican deputies have been quite captivated by the gracious and graceful manners of the Archduke MAXIMILIAN and the Archduchess CHARLOTTE. Their Imperial Highnesses "were even affectionate" toward M. GUTIERREZ DE ESTRADA. It is said that the future Emperor and Empress of Mexico will arrive at Compiègne at the end of a fortnight, along with the members of the deputation.

It is generally understood in Paris that the Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH declined to receive the Mexican deputation, who are immediately about to leave Europe again for Mexico. At the same time the Emperor does not oppenly oppose the departure of MAXIMILIAN to reign over a new empire which possesses so many material advantages. The Mémorial Diplomatique, however, says that the Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH has written a letter to the Archduke, complimenting him on the answer he gave to the deputation which placed at his disposal the new empire. The Emperor and Empress of Mexico will visit King LEOPOLD before their departure, and also the Emperor NAPOLEON.

EARL RUSSELL'S BLAWGOWRIE SPEECH AND THE POLISH QUESTION.

In reference to the Polish question, the Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:

"There is a very general impression here that after Earl RUSSELL'S Scotch speech, the Cabinet of St. James' proposed the note based on that speech, and that France objected to it as too weak—an empty threat, really leading to nothing; while Austria rejected it as too strong—a measure sure to bring about a war, which must necessarily fall first on her, as the neighbor of the Czar. This view of the case is supported, too, by the Viennese Press, which, however, asserts that France has now, on reflection, agreed to the note, and that this has put the Imperial Government of Vienna in such a dilemma that to escape it a note has been sent to St. James', to know what England is prepared to do if Austria's fears of war are realized. "On the reply of Earl RUSSELL to this document," says La Boersen-halle, "depends the final determination of Austria on the Polish question."

PARIS, Sunday, Oct. 11, 1863.

The Constitutionnel of to-day, in an article signed by M. LYMAYRAC, attaches serious importance to Earl RUSSELL'S speech at Blairgowrie. "If," says the writer, "England proposes to abolish the treaties of 1815 relative to Poland, the reply of France is known beforehand." As regards Austria, M. LYMAYRAC understands that that Power may require certain guarantees; and says, in conclusion: "We believe the treaties of 1815 relative to Poland have never been so near being annulled. They are not yet buried, but they are dead."

GEN. ROSECRANS AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Monday, Oct. 26.

Gen. ROSECRANS arrived at about 11 o'clock this forenoon, and was escorted to the Burnet House by an immense crowd of citizens. He was enthusiastically welcomed throughout the entire line of march.

Judge STORER introduced the General to the assemblage by saying his fellow-citizens of Cincinnati appreciated the work he had accomplished for his country, and he assured him of their unshaken confidence. While he had never dishonored his native State, his native State had never forgotten him. Alluding to his removal from the Army of the Cumberland, Judge STORER said the people would require the records upon which that action was based.

The average of Specie on the present Bank return is a million and a half stronger than the Export and Custom-house demands of last week lead us to anticipate. The shipments were $1,243,000, and the Customs $1,237,000, the latter being a gain to the amount of Gold in the Sub-Treasury, and now we have an addition of $442,000 to the average in Bank. The receipts from the interior on the present and recent prices of Gold have undoubtedly been large by express and otherwise; in addition to which it is not improbable that a considerable amount of Gold heretofore lodged by Merchants and others in Bank merely for safe keeping—not entering into the regular official returns—has been drawn out to pay Customs and for transmission abroad. Including the amount of Gold which we are advised is now in the Treasury Office, the following is the apparent stock in this City:

In Bank	$28,804,915
In Sub-Treasury	10,500,000
Total	$39,304,915

The Deposit line on the present statement shows the loss of $3,500,000 Legal Tender, paid to the Government last Monday on the September negotiation. On this account there is still due $19,250,000, but no further drafts will probably be made this week. The Treasury Office to-day loses $2,190,000 Legal Tender, in excess of all receipts, most of which goes into Bank. The receipts for the Popular Loan are $1,379,350. After the 3d of November, (next Tuesday,) the Banks will make the Certificates of Deposit which they now hold on the Treasury and heretofore bearing 5 ℔ cent. interest in Gold, into Certificates, bearing the same rate in Currency; the Certificates under the new arrangement to be used in the daily settlement of balances between the Banks at the Clearing House. At present these resulting Balances between the Banks are paid in Legal Tender United States Notes exclusively, as the Gold interest borne by the old Certificates rendered them too valuable for ordinary currency (though receivable) at the Clearing House. They were practically a fixed investment, equal, at the going premium on Gold, to 7@7½ ℔ cent. ℔ annum. Of course the Banks had no inducement to lend Money to other parties at 6 or even 7 ℔ cent., unless with a good reserve of Legal Tender wherewith to settle their accounts between each other. They could not afford, when short of Legal Tender, to surrender a 7½ ℔ cent. investment for the purpose of accommodating a 6@7 ℔ cent. borrower. But now that the Gold interest terminates, by limitation, the effect of the change will be to give the Banks thirty-five millions of dollars in Currency additional to their present reserve of Legal Tender. On a 6 or 7 ℔ cent. Money market, the practical use and working of this large sum of Legal Tender Certificates will be the same as so much legal Tender Notes, into which they may, at any time, be turned at the Treasury.

The signs of a rising speculation in the Stock Market at the close of last week were followed up quite vigorously to-day, and the additional advance was quite general on the Railway list, in some few instances 3@4 ℔ cent. over the best sales of Saturday. These were Hudson River, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Chicago and Alton and Michigan Guaranteed. There was a rise of 2½ ℔ cent. on Michigan Central and a strong demand for Erie at 110½@110¾ ℔ cent., and New-York Central firm at 138@138¼ ℔ cent. The Miscellaneous shares were steady, and Government securities higher on the 6 ℔ cent. coupons of 1881 and the 7.30 ℔ cent. Treasury Bonds.

At 4 o'clock, the general market continued firm; Michigan Southern being the chief exception among the active railways. The price of Gold which fluctuated violently in the forenoon, rising before the early Board to 151, and falling off 2@2½ ℔ cent. between the Boards, finally closed about 148½ ℔ cent. and Bills on London 163½@164 ℔ cent. The following prices were quoted in comparison with Saturday night. We heard few complaints from the Brokers in reference to the working of the Money Market, but the rate is pretty general at 7 ℔ cent.:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The military telegraph between Chattanooga and Nashville has been closed to the Press. A dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette, dated Chattanooga, Oct. 24, says that Gen. GRANT arrived there on the 23d inst. Deserters report BRAGG'S ARMY and BUCKNER'S forces to have withdrawn from our front and moving in large bodies to our left. The object of the movement was not clear. Rumors say that Rome and Atlanta have been attacked in the rear.

Gen. ROSECRANS yesterday arrived at Cincinnati, and was warmly welcomed by a large concourse of citizens. In reply to an address of Judge STORER, he said that he should not then discuss the question as to how he had been treated, but would take occasion to deny the truth of reports which had gained publicity through several Eastern journals, damaging to his reputation. Respecting the battle of Chattanooga, he had received a letter from the President commending his conduct.

The Provost-Marshal-General advises Gov. SEYMOUR that 60,378 volunteers is the quota of New-York, under the new call. The Provost-Marshal also says, that the State was deficient on the 17th of October 47,657 men, making a grand aggregate required of her, before January next, to avoid a new draft, of 108,085.

We have received Richmond papers as late as Saturday last, from which we make up a budget of interesting news. In commenting upon the recent campaign of LEE'S army, these journals have no hesitation in declaring it to have failed of accomplishing any successful result. Additional information is given respecting the operations of a detachment of Gen. BURNSIDE'S command in East Tennessee, which culminated in the destruction of a large number of cars and other railroad stock at Bristoe. In this matter the rebels had nothing to boast over. Numerically superior to our force, they skedaddled inconsinently as we advanced, and now explain their cowardice by stating that they believed we were pursuing with overwhelming numbers. Under date of Chickamauga, Oct. 21, we have an official report from Gen. BRAGG, announcing a fight at Philadelphia, Tenn., on that day between the rebels under MORRISON and DIBRELL, and a body of our cavalry, resulting in the defeat of the latter and the capture of 700 prisoners, 50 wagons, 6 pieces of artillery, a lot of horses and other property. Among the items of miscellaneous intelligence it is stated that Gen. NEAL DOW is to be exchanged for the guerrilla Gen. JOHN H. MORGAN.

A Memphis dispatch states that Gen. MCPHERSON came up with the rebels on the 18th inst., near Canton, Miss., and after a short engagement captured 200 prisoners and put the rest of the force to flight.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Canada, with two days' later advices from Europe, passed Cape Race yesterday afternoon, and was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press. A derangement of the telegraph wires prevents the reception of more than a few lines of the news, which, however, is said to be unimportant. The steamer Etna arrived at this port last evening, with journals two days later than those brought by the Hibernia on Saturday, and we extract the most interesting details, a synopsis of which was received by telegraph, and published on Saturday.

GENERAL NEWS.

Both Boards of the Common Council had long sessions yesterday, and acted upon a large number of minor matters. The Aldermen adopted Mr. OTTIWELL'S ordinance increasing the salaries of the Mayor's clerks—a very proper measure, in view of the fact that their pay at present is the same as it was fixed years ago, when the duties of the office were far less than now, and prevailing prices for all things were very much lower. The Councilmen concurred in adopting the resolutions of respect to the memory of Brig.-Gen. MALLON, and also concurred in adopting the resolution directing the Corporation Counsel to proceed against all parties who have put down railroad tracks in the City without municipal authority. Both Boards adjourned to Thursday.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday, and appointed Inspectors of election for about half the City. The remaining appointments were deferred till the next meeting, in order to make the nominations for them complete. The Board adopted the ordinance recently introduced by Mr. BLUNT, appropriating $2,000,000, and reappointed the present Substitute and Relief Committee to furnish soldiers to the Government in advance as substitutes for conscripts by the next draft. Adjourned to Wednesday at 11 o'clock A. M.

The Arizona gold fields are attracting great attention. The Gazette says the mineral wealth of that region has been known for a long time, but the country has been in the possession of hostile savages, who would not tolerate the presence of white men. About fifteen hundred men are already in the mines. The Gazette advises persons at a distance not to start for the mines before next Spring. All supplies have to come from New-Mexico or California. It is 516 miles from Santa Fé to the mines.

Rev. Dr. ALEXIS CARWELL has resigned his Professorship of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy in Brown University. He has held a Professorship there for a period of thirty-five years, frequently discharging the duties of President in the absence of that functionary. In his retirement Prof. CARWELL will carry with him the sincere affection and best wishes of his numerous pupils.

The next Legislature of Ohio will stand as follows: Senate, 20 Unionists to 5 Opposition; House, 80 Unionists to 17 Opposition; Union majority on joint ballot, 87.

Police Capt. PETER SQUIERS, of the Second Precinct, died yesterday morning, at the age of forty-eight. He was the oldest Captain of the Metropolitan Police force.

There was an active Stock speculation yesterday, particularly on the Railways. Gold fluctuated between 147½@151 ℔ cent., closing 148¾. Money 7 ℔ cent. The sales of the Popular Loan, $1,350,000.

Breadstuffs were more active yesterday, the speculative demand having been quite brisk, in view of the rise in Gold and Sterling Exchange, and prices of the principal kinds were decidedly higher, Flour having advanced 15c.@25c. ℔ bbl.; Wheat, 3c.@5c.; Mixed Corn, 3c.@4c., and Oats, 1c.@2c. ℔ bushel. At the close, however, the market was heavy. Provisions were more sought after, and were generally dearer, as were also ... gallon. Hay, Hops and Crude Whale Oil were ... in fair demand. The quality of the cattle was generally poor, and most of the cattle were sold at 9c.@10c. ℔ lb. Those holding over from last week, though they paid the extra cost of keeping, went off slowly. They were the cullings of the last market, and look even worse now. The clear cold weather increases the demand for meat, and sheep and hogs are reported selling much better than last week.

COURT DISSENSIONS.

President Lincoln's Letter on the Missouri Dissensions.

The President, in his manner of meeting the appeal of one of the parties in the Missouri quarrels, has displayed a broad-souled patriotism that every loyal man in the country ought to take as a model. While aiming to do justice in the premises, he refuses to identify himself with either side in the controversy. Having in vain done his best to reconcile the conflicting views and policies, he readily takes the responsibility of enforcing his own independent convictions. This is the more notable from the fact that the Radical leaders have assumed quite a peremptory tone, in respect to the proper policy to be adopted in Missouri. They have seemed to consider that they had a vested right to prescribe what shall be done and who shall do it. This has been made manifest in the spirit of the Radical press of Missouri. It appeared also to a certain extent, even in the interview of the Radical delegation with the President. But it peculiarly developed itself at the meeting gotten up in this city, quickly after that interview, with the patent design of putting the President under the pressure of a spuriously generated public opinion. This meeting was addressed by Missouri and Kansas speakers in the most exciting language. None but one-sided statements and views were given, and the duty of the President was set forth in positive and even imperious terms. The whole demonstration, if not intended to be passed off as an ex cathedra allocution of the Union sentiment of this metropolis, was, at the very least, meant to be an expression of popular feeling that should have a controlling effect upon the mind of the President. We consider the whole affair to have been a gross impropriety. The President had patiently listened to all the representations and arguments of the delegation. He had taken the case into deliberate advisement. It ought to have been assumed that he would decide it upon its merits. Pending that deliberation, an appeal to the popular will, even had that appeal been fairly put, was just as much out of place as would have been an appeal to a popular gathering on a case submitted to a Judge on the bench. The President alone was the responsible official in the premises. He was entitled to the most independent exercise of his judgment. Any attempt in any degree to force that judgment, either in one direction or the other, was alike an infringement upon the respect due to his station, and an injury to the public service, the great safeguard of which lies in combining strict responsibility with perfect freedom of action within the particular sphere of duty.

The President evinces an exact apprehension of his duty in the concluding words of his letter: "I hold whoever commands in Missouri or elsewhere responsible to me, and not to either Radicals or Conservatives. It is my duty to hear all; but at last, I must, within my sphere, judge what to do, and what to forbear." The great body of loyal men through the country will sustain him in this position. Whatever may be their individual predilections in respect to what are called the radical and conservative question, of the day, they fully appreciate the necessity of leaving the final responsibility with the President, upon whom the Constitution devolves it, and of submitting cheerfully to his honest judgment. It is an immense advantage to the loyal cause that we have a man in the Executive chair whose fairness of mind and singleness of purpose are universally admitted—a man, too, of an independence and firmness that make it impossible for him to be used by political managers, either in the conservative interests or the radical interests. Mr. LINCOLN never forgets that he is President of the nation, and that his prime duty is to save the nation from the rebellion which has threatened to destroy it. He knows how to judge every question with reference purely to that one great end, and, consequently, cannot be drawn into any of the petty strifes which too widely prevail among loyal men. This elevation and breadth of purpose fit him preëminently for his peculiar responsibilities in these momentous times, and the people so understand it. If any set or division of loyal men choose to upbraid him for not adopting their particular sentiments and policies, they will find that the attempt to injure the President will only react upon themselves.

We trust that the loyal men of Missouri will soon see the necessity of reconsidering their feuds, and will in good faith accept the decision of the President. Their quarrel, as it has been going on for many months, is a scandal and injury to the National cause. It has done more than all things else to keep a large portion of the State a prey to the guerrillas, and to subject it to all the evils of chronic anarchy. It is high time that an end were put to loyal dissensions which enure only to the benefit of traitors. The President has faithfully done his part toward settling the difficulties. The loyal men of Missouri must now do their part, or lay themselves open to the severest reproach.

CALLICOT.—It evidently goes hard with the Republican journals to commend the corrupt CALLICOT, who betrayed his party for $1,000 last Winter; but he has extorted from the Post, the Tribune and the TIMES more or less enthusiastic indorsements of his claim for reëlection in the Fifth District of Kings.

☞ The World, from which we cut the above paragraph, is entirely mistaken in supposing that the TIMES indorses the candidacy of Mr. CALLICOT. The Union men of his District have nominated, in a Convention fairly elected, and by action to which no exception ... to or can be taken, Mr. PRATT, for the Assembly, and we have heard no reason given why he should not receive the vote of every Union man in his district. Mr. CALLICOT'S name was submitted to the Convention by his consent, and he is fairly to be inferred that he would abide by its action. He has seen fit to announce himself as an independent candidate for reasons and from motives purely personal to himself. We should be very much surprised if any considerable number of Union men should consider his personal interests paramount to the public interests involved in the election of the regular Union candidate.

The World has seen fit to comment on a recent communication in our columns, with regard to the riot, as inconsistent with the charges so habitually made through the country against the Peace Democrats for instigating this fearful outbreak. It is quite natural that both the presses and leaders of the Opposition should feel very sensitive with respect to this exhibition of Copperheadism in our City. There were circumstances connected with it which the public—especially the rural public—will not easily forget. For months, the Copperhead Press of this City had been vetigmatising a National act of legislation, which was indispensable to the very preservation of the Government, as a proceeding of measureless tyranny. A provision which was designed to cut off all competition in purchasing substitutes, and which was thus, in fact, the protection of the poor man, was denounced as favoring the rich and crushing the laboring class. All the arts of sophistry and eloquence were exhausted to depict the draft as a means for relieving the upper classes of their burdens and throwing them on the lower. The Union and Republican leaders were pictured as rich and fortunate men, gorged with contracts, who were seeking to make the laborer and foreigner do the fighting while they carried off the profits. The orators in the "Democratic" meetings, with the skillful touch of unprincipled demagogues, played on this dangerous class-prejudice before their ignorant and passionate audiences. They were boldly called on "to resist despotism!" to submit no longer to this atrocious tyranny of wealth and office, and "to strike for their liberties." Prophecies were cunningly made in those base organs which are read in rum-shops, and at corner "groceries," where "the people" congregate, that the execution of these odious acts of oppression by the rich would call forth a second French Revolution of blood and carnage. Exciting pictures were drawn of the revenge which the poor and honest laboring people might wreak, in return for these wrongs inflicted on them by the powerful. It was assumed that the lowest classes of New-York—"the people"—were all-powerful, and that any law attempted to be executed against their will would utterly fail; that no force in the Government could possibly control them. Bold and straightforward men like ANDREWS, and more cunning and dangerous men who go yet "unwhipt of justice," thus for months before the draft, in bar-rooms, caucuses, political meetings and newspapers, busied themselves in doing the devil's work of firing the passions of "the people" against the better classes. And what was this "people?" Our correspondent, as the World now admits, has only too clearly described them.

They are the lowest, most ignorant, degraded, imbruted population that ever disgraced a large city; the very scum of Europe; people without property, bred up under the oppressions of the Old World, with no education or habits of self-control—narrow, passionate and credulous.

They are, as has been so often shown in our columns, our "dangerous class." Every good and patriotic citizen must have always, in the quietest times, felt apprehensive of them. The material for revolution was always fermenting among them. They were known to be jealous of other classes, discontented and ripe for illegal and riotous proceedings. On this class, explosive and dangerous, while our City was stripped of its military defenders, the Copperhead organs and orators undertook to play for weeks and months, with skillful inuendoes and exciting appeals. Fully knowing the tremendous magazine beneath the City, they yet cast their lighted matches about. It is not necessary for us to inquire whether they did this undesignedly or half consciously, or with malignant and devilish purpose. When men thus play with fire about a magazine, their motive is of little consequence. The explosion came.

This dangerous class, long burning with jealousy and hatred of the rich, now taught by their old leaders that the Conscription law selected every poor man and passed by every man with means, burst out into a fearful and ungoverned convulsion against property, varied with certain diabolical fits of passion against those whom the Copperhead Press had so long stigmatized as the enemies of the poor white men—the negroes.

It was, indeed, as our correspondent asserted, a proletaire movement—a revolution of those without property against those possessing it; but it was one stimulated and worked up by the unprincipled Press and the reckless leaders of the Peace Democracy of New-York. It was they who sowed the wind, of which we all reaped the whirlwind. It was their "friends" who sacked orphan asylums and burnt negroes, and they may thank themselves for the first sparks which kindled this terrible conflagration.

The well-known conduct of Gov. SEYMOUR during the riot fully sustains this view. His action was not, as his warmest friend must admit, that of the Governor of a community, attempting to preserve it from anarchy and rapine, but rather of the chief of a gang of ill-used and oppressed men, whose wrongs more than half-justified their crimes.

We feel for the sensitiveness of the Demo-

Peace Democracy and the Riots.

The World has seen fit to comment on a recent communication in our columns, with regard to the riot, as inconsistent with the charges so habitually made through the country against the Peace Democrats for instigating this fearful outbreak. It is quite natural that both the presses and leaders of the Opposition should feel very sensitive with respect to this exhibition of Copperheadism in our City. There were circumstances connected with it which the public—especially the rural public—will not easily forget. We feel for the sensitiveness of the Democratic Presses at this New-York riot. They certainly do present to the popular mind the most awful as well as the most natural culmination to the Copperhead principles. They have been a very unfortunate circumstance for the Peace Democracy in the West. The honest rustic mind in our own State will have a provokingly clear remembrance of them, and we are not surprised that the World should catch at the slightest straw which may turn the current of popular indignation.

The Road to Richmond.

Two of our contemporaries yesterday published articles aiming to show—first that the route by the Peninsula is the only one by which we can ever hope to reach Richmond, and, secondly, that it is impossible the Administration should adopt this route, for the reason that it was the one chosen by the General of whom these journals have constituted themselves the especial champions—McCLELLAN. Now we were not aware that Gen. McCLELLAN had taken out a patent for the Peninsular line of operations against Richmond, though we had supposed that the lamentable failure he made in his attempt to reach the rebel capital by this route, would not prove a very powerful temptation to infringe any right he may have to its exclusive possession. We rather fancy, however, that it will be found that the chief obstacle to our gaining Richmond by any of the half-a-dozen attempts we have made against it, by both the overland and the Peninsular lines, has been the rebel army that has obstructed our path, rather than anything in the path itself. If we could only discover a method of eliminating LEE'S army we imagine "On to Richmond" would be an easy task. Until that is done there will be a very serious obstacle to our getting there by any route. On the face of the map there is certainly nothing in either the overland or the Peninsular line to Richmond that need much embarrass an advance. They are both good enough, and we do not know that there is much to choose between them. From the line of the Rappahannock, now held by our advance cavalry, the distance to Richmond is but sixty miles, with the advantage of a railroad and several rivers by which to supply an army—a task which, put into comparison with ROSECRANS' great march from Murfreesboro to Chattanooga is but child's play. In the mere matter of the territorial march the Peninsular line is, undoubtedly, the shorter, but this route has the counterbalancing disadvantages which always attach to military operations dependent on a water-line for connection with the base of supplies. We take it that the question of an advance to Richmond is one which will be decided purely by military contingencies. If LEE ventures on the further subtraction of another corps from the army of Northern Virginia for reinforcement to the army fronting Chattanooga it will open to Gen. MEADE an opportunity which he will quickly seize. If he does not venture to make this subtraction, owing to the menace of MEADE'S presence, the Army of the Potomac will still be serving the purpose of keeping that force in check and thus lessening the task of our army in Tennessee. Whether or not Gen. MEADE should at present attempt a new campaign against Richmond, is, therefore, simply a question of the relative strength of the two armies, and the cant about the "road to Richmond," and the ascription of any special magical virtues to that by the Peninsula, is the dictate either of an unintelligible stupidity or of a very intelligible mendaciousness.

OUR RUSSIAN GUESTS.

The Excursion to Niagara Falls.

CATARACT HOUSE, NIAGARA FALLS, Sunday, Oct. 25, 1863.

If there be anything among the sights of this place which our Russian guests may be supposed to envy, it is the gulls. I don't mean the human gulls who abound hereabouts and who sell you gimcracks made of Derbyshire spar and tell you that it is the veritable Table Rock, but our old friends the sea-gulls, who visit the Falls only in the Fall of the year, but who make up for their absence by staying all Winter. These birds arrived here, I am told, only a few days' since—just in time to see the Russians. I don't know whether they take much notice of the Russians, but they certainly seem rejoiced to behold again their old friend the Cataract, and they are now holding high carnival in his honor. All day long they perform their gyrations around his brow, dip their snowy wings in his hoary locks, and moisten their beaks in the spray of his nostrils. The liberties they are allowed to take with the roaring old Demon are astonishing, and herein is where they excite our envy, and the envy of all the Russians. We, miserable, creeping, two legged, unwinged animals, can't do it. While we are crawling around on the outskirts of the Cataract, standing in dangerous places, peering over huge precipices, and clinging to shaky old crags and stumps, trying to get a good view of the Demon, they sail boldly up to his very front, pluck him by the beard, flap their wings in his face, and dive down recklessly into the deep foam at his feet. A bloated, red-faced John Bullian over on the Canada side told me these birds were here only to get fish. I told him that was a fishy idea, and any man who entertained it ought to be made to live on gulls the rest of his days. It is too bad that Americans are obliged to go over among such a prosy set of old fools as those Canadians are in order to get a good view of his own Falls. But so it is, and so I suppose it must be for the present.

Speaking of Canada, I found the atmosphere over there redolent with the odor of VALLANDIGHAM. Because they boarded the traitor awhile over there, at $40 per week, they would fain make you believe they had entertained a martyr. Old "Sol. DAVIS" to whose shanty he went after leaving the[m] Clifton," and who keeps an "otel" so near the edge of the Falls that I wonder the traitor hadn't jumped overboard and ended his days by doing his country a service, is, they tell me, the rabidest kind of a Secessionist and vituperator of this country. I didn't get a sight at the old man himself, but I saw his hopeful son CHARLES, who said, in the course of a brief conversation, that "he would deserve to have his throat cut if he owed any allegiance to such a country as the United States; that he thanked God he lived under a higher Government." I am informed since that the renegade scamp was born, on the American side, and that he does business now in this village. My informant added that he did not dare to talk that way over here. These facts only go to show what a sweet-scented place VALLANDIGHAM got into when he left the Clifton House for Sol. DAVIS' "otel." Old Sol himself has done compulsory service for this country in the State of Michigan. "Birds of a feather."

Our Russian guests keep themselves very quiet here to-day. Whether they are strict observers of the Sabbath or no, I am not aware; if they are, they don't resemble the people of this village much, for I find all the shops open here to-day as usual. Many ...

Died on the voyage, Oct. 22, of consumption, J. B. CRAY, aged 28 years.

Port Montt, Sept. 5; Valparaiso, 15th; Coquimbo, 19th; Caldera, 20th; Cobija, 22d; Arica, 25th; Islay, 26th; Islas de Chincha, 28th; Pisco, 29th; Callao, 30th; Payta, Oct. 2.

In addition to mails and passengers, the Valparaiso brought $249,000 in specie for transmission to Southampton, and the following among other cargo, viz.

CHILI.

From the Panama Star, 9th.

The most important event of the past fortnight is the opening of the railway connecting Santiago with Valparaiso. On the 14th of September trains left Santiago and Valparaiso, starting each at 10 o'clock in the morning, and they met at a central station called "Llay-llai," where luncheon was provided, and afterward the line was formally declared by the President to be opened. Next day, the 14th, trains were run regularly for passengers and freight, and such was the rush of passengers, that for one of the trains as many as 900 passengers were left behind for want of accommodation. Government owns nearly all the shares in this undertaking, and keeps the management in its own hands for the present.

The House of Deputies has given a most opportune instance of energy and independence. The pretensions of the Romish priesthood in the various Republics of South America, and the ignominious bonds which have recently been thrown around the Republics of Ecuador and Guatemala have roused in Chili a spirit of direct opposition to further Romish usurpation. In this Republic, not content with the monopoly of religion, the Priesthood has been demanding new privileges, and in the matter of education would fain have it all their own way, preparing the ground for a "Concordat" which Rome would have laid on Chili with the same onerous conditions as have been condemned so emphatically by public opinion throughout the civilized world. The intention was to send to Rome an Envoy from Chili. However, on the 10th instant, the Chamber of Deputies put a stop to all such manœuvres, passing by a large majority, after a vigorous debate, a bill to revoke the authority formerly granted for sending such Envoy, because, under present circumstances, it is fraught with peril.

Negotiations proceed favorably between the Chilian and Bolivian Governments about the Mejillones dispute.

The Secretary of the Legation in Mexico, Señor OARIS, who arrived by the last packet but one, will soon return to that country, and it is supposed that the instructions he will take to the Chilian Minister will be in conformity with the above sentiments, to which the people so explicitly have given expression.

Several notes have been exchanged between the United States Minister at Santiago and the Government, respecting the Mexican question, and we learn from them that both Governments are possessed of the like sentiments of fraternity, of the same aversion to crowned heads on American ground, and of the same Democratic views.

The holidays in September have affected business, and there has been very little animation in commercial transactions.

Charters of shipping continue very advantageous for shipowners, £4 to £4 5s. still ruling for freight from Coiders, Iquique or Valparaiso to Britain.

Amongst foreign arrivals at Valparaiso we note Sept. 10, American ship Ocean Pearl, from Boston, 12th, British bark Glamorgan, from Swansea; and on the 12th, H. B. M.'s ship Leander, with the new Commodore for this coast.

H. B. M.'s ship Topaze was to leave for England on the 21st of September.

Exchange, 43½d. to 44d. per dollar on London.

PERU.

The time of the elections approaches, and the public mind begins naturally to be somewhat excited, but there is no serious apprehension of disturbance in the country.

The Matoko, British ship, has arrived from New-Zealand.

Exchange is at 37d., but for the next mail will be 36½ per dol.

The steamers of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company in Callao Bay are the Bolivia, Inca and Ecuador.

Previous to reaching Payta, the Valparaiso passed the Royal Mail steamer Callao, with the Southampton mails of Sept. 8, bound for Callao and the South.

The Comercio of Sept. 28 says:

"We have heard on Sept. 13, although not from official sources, that Mr. BANE, Charge d'Affaires of the Republic in England, was retiring to private life, and that he would be replaced by Mr. P. GALVEZ, Minister at the time in France.

The vacant place in Paris will be occupied by Gen. M. I. VIVANCO, as Charge d'Affaires, until an indication of the Spanish Government be received to enter into a new treaty with this nation, when Mr. VIVANCO will be charged with the mission of Minister Plenipotentiary.

As it is likely negotiations with Spain will be opened as soon as our representative arrives at the Imperial Court, the Deputy, A. LAVALLE, has been appointed first-class Secretary of this Legation."

NERVOUS ACCIDENT TO TWO SOLDIERS OF THE INVALID CORPS.—Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, two soldiers doing duty at the Provost-Marshal's office in Broome-street, while returning with dispatches from the Provost-Marshal General's office, were run over by a lager-bier wagon, on the corner of Canal-street and Broadway. One of the soldiers, CHAS. WHITE, late of the Twenty-seventh Massachusetts, had his leg broken in two places; the other, THOMPSON S. STIMSON, One Hundred and Third Pennsylvania, was also severely hurt, although Dr. FAY, of the Soldier's Home, said he had no bones broken. Two much praise cannot be given to the officers in charge of the Soldier's Depot for their prompt attention to the wants of the soldiers, for in less than five minutes after the accident happened, while both men were waiting for the police to take charge of them, Col. NEVILLE, Superintendent of the Soldiers' Depot, accompanied by Courier MCMANUS and DUNLEAVY, were promptly on the ground with conveyance to take charge of the injured soldiers, who were taken to the corner of Howard and Mercer streets, where their wounds and wants were attended to.

THE MAYORALTY.—The McKeon party met last night at the St. Clair House in Eighth-street, and unanimously nominated C. GODFREY GUNTHER for Mayor of New-York. A delegation from the German Democratic Club of this City was admitted, and united in the action taken by the Convention.

A FAIR NOMINATION.—The associate of Justice ROSWORTH, on the McKeon Regular Democratic nomination for Justices of the Superior Court, is Mr. J. T. C. SMITH, a lawyer, well known in Wall-street and to the Bar. He is not a German by birth; but his proclivities are strongly in that direction.

SEVENTH REGIMENT PROMENADE CONCERT.—The first of the third series of these most attractive concerts commence on Saturday evening next. The Seventh have ever known how to make them attractive, both as to music and gallantry, and we predict for this series an unprecedented success. People now-a-days all seek enjoyment; people now-a-days, as in bygone days, all honor the Seventh, and people these days, as in other days, are determined to "promenade" at their concerts.

SEVENTY-FIRST REGIMENT.—The annual inspection of the Seventy-first regiment takes place to-day at Washington-square. A fine display may be anticipated.

FROM THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.

Movements of the Rebel Pirate Cruisers.

The bark Urania, Capt. COOPER, from the Cape of Good Hope, arrived at this port yesterday. Capt. COOPER reports having on board, as passengers from the Cape, Capt. WHITE, JOHN SCHOFIELD and RICHARD WHITE, late master and officers of the bark Sea Bird, of Boston, which vessel was captured by the Alabama, in sight of the shipping at anchor in Table Bay, and within gunshot of the shore.

There are also on board Messrs. J. ELDRIDGE and GEORGE WILLIAMS, late first and second mates of the bark Anna F. Schmidt, of Boston, likewise a prize to the Alabama.

The latter gentlemen were on board the privateer as prisoners for several weeks, and witnessed the capture of the Sea Bird. From individuals they also obtained much information concerning the past proceedings of the Alabama.

The Urania left port at night, and at the time of the departure the privateer Georgia was repairing and coaling in Simon's Bay. The Florida and the armed sailing privateer Tuscaloosa, formerly the Conrad, were cruising on the coast, and the Alabama was said to be in or near Saldanha Bay, superintending the disposal of the bark Sea Bird and cargo.

The Urania sailed at St. Helena, and learned that the United States gunboat Vanderbilt had coaled there, and left for Cape Town. A few days previously a Dutch bark called at the island, on her passage direct from Batavia, and reported on Aug. 20 having spoken the bark Urania, and on the 21st was herself spoken by a large war steamer. The officer of the latter who boarded him said the steamer was the Great Bahama, a Confederate cruiser, and that they and the Alabama were looking out for the Urania. The Dutchman told them of having seen the Urania, and the privateer steered in the direction indicated.

The Urania did not leave St. Helena until the 29th, and thus another vessel reported herself with the same name.

It was the report at Cape Town that SEMMES had publicly declared a determination to hang the master of the Urania at the yard-arm of his own bark, (when he caught him outside,) for insulting him, by displaying the Stars and Stripes in port, upon his arrival, and not a ship's length from the Alabama.

At anchor at St. Helena was the bark Lone Star, Capt. DIXEY, of Warren, R. I., with four of her crew in irons for murdering the first mate at sea. The prisoners were undergoing examination at the Consulate when the Urania left. The Consul at St. Helena requested Capt. COOPER to take on board these men, but from the crowded state of his vessel with the other Consul's men, he was forced to decline.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

AGAIN NEW TESTIMONY.

READ,

HARLEM, July 20, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. VON EISENBERG has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. VON EISENBERG is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with great gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. VON EISENBERG, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr VON EISENBERG, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. VON EISENBERG'S mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.

JAMES FURLONG, No. 556 2d-av.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. VON EISENBERG, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR,

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. VON EISENBERG removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. VON EISENBERG almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. VON EISENBERG, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.

READ.

NEW-YORK, March 29, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

AND DISEASES OF THE EAR AND THROAT.

Dr. LIGHTHILL, author of "A Popular Treatise on Deafness," "Letters on Catarrh," can be consulted on Catarrh, Deafness, Noises in the Head, Discharges from the Ear, and all the various diseases of the Ear and Throat, at his office, No. 34 St. Mark's-place. Reception hours from 9 A. M. till 3 P. M.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

The first sensation is usually a feeling of dryness and heat in the nose, and a frequent inclination to sneezing. There is an inability to breathe freely, as the nose becomes stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other.

Soon a clear, watery, acrid discharge makes its appearance, excoriating the nostrils and edges of the lips, which become red and somewhat swollen. After a few days the discharge becomes thick, yellowish, extremely frequent, and continues to be a marked feature of the disease, and a source of much danger and the greatest annoyance. After more or less time it becomes purulent, highly offensive, and assumes an extremely fetid odor. It is usually so profuse as to require, when confined to the nose, the frequent application of the handkerchief, or, if it drops into the throat, which is more particularly the case while the body is in a horizontal position, constant expectoration, and sometimes both.

Sleep is frequently disturbed by a sensation of choking, caused by the presence of the discharge in the throat. Owing to the heat in the head, the watery portion of the discharge often evaporates, and assuming a condition of solidity, is deposited upon the membrane of the nose and upper part of the throat, in the shape of crusts or hardened lumps. The accumulation of these incrustations produces a feeling of discomfort, and narrows the nasal passages so as to embarrass respiration. Therefore, frequent efforts have to be made to remove them, either by forcibly blowing the nose, or by persistent hawking—a practice as disagreeable to the one affected as it is to those around him. After the removal, that side of the incrustation which adhered to the mucous membrane will sometimes be found bloody—a fact which explains the force required for its dislodgment. During sleep these incrustations accumulate more rapidly, and the feeling is, therefore, most uncomfortable in the morning. Sometimes all efforts to clear the throat are futile until after breakfast or after something warm is swallowed. Some patients state that they are not successful until they have swallowed some whisky or brandy. The discharge, which is at first without smell, assumes in the progress of the complaint an excessively fetid odor, the breath participates in this, and becomes occasionally so revoltingly offensive as to render the patient an object of disgust to himself as well as to others. Ulceration of the mucous membrane of the nose takes place frequently, sometimes even attacking the bones, when small particles of that substance will occasionally be found mixed with the discharge. The accumulation of the discharge, together with the thickened condition of the mucous membrane, renders respiration through the nasal passages very difficult, and oftentimes impossible, necessitating respiration principally through the mouth—a method very deleterious to the general health, but more particularly so to the lungs, as will be shown hereafter. The unpleasant noise produced during sleep, known as snoring, originates from the same cause. The voice loses its musical quality, and assumes a discordant, harsh and nasal character; the sense of smell becomes much impaired or entirely lost, and the same effect, though less frequent, is produced on the sense of taste. Occasionally, while blowing the nose, a crackling or bubbling sound will be heard in the ear, and hearing will be found quite thick and stopped up, but returns suddenly with something like a snapping sound. This phenomenon is usually repeated until, at one time, hearing does not return, and remains permanently injured. Noises in the head of every conceivable description will make their appearance and add to the distress of the sufferer, and hearing may be lost so gradually that a considerable degree of deafness may exist before the person is really aware of the fact. The eyes are apt to become weak, irritable and disposed to water on exposure to cold and wind, or after the slightest exertion. A pain, more or less acute, or a distressing feeling of pressure, is experienced over the eyes, and sometimes on the top or back of the head, and also pain in the face, closely resembling neuralgia, for which it is very often mistaken. The distress in the head weakens the memory and produces irritability and moroseness of disposition. The stomach generally suffers more or less, is weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious, and is nearly always bad in the morning. In severe cases the system becomes feeble and prostrated, and there is an aversion or inability to either physical or mental exertion. Not unfrequently catarrh proves fatal, either by debilitating the system and wearing out the patient, or by traveling downward and producing throat affections, bronchitis, and finally consumption. It may be safely asserted that after hereditary predisposition, catarrh is the most frequent and important cause of this fatal complaint.

TESTIMONIALS.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 2, 1863.

This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Catarrh for some years, which produced the usual disagreeable effects. I consulted Dr. Lighthill about nine or ten months since, and at once placed myself under his care. I am now entirely free from Catarrh, my throat is perfectly healthy, and my health is very much improved.

P. E. NOLAN,
Office Erie Railroad, foot of Duane-st.

From Hon. Ira Fish, Fulton, Mass.

DR LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: I send you a statement of my case, which you may use as you think proper. I have acquaintances in different parts of the State, have served three years as Senator of Penobscot County, and three years as Representative, in all six years, in our State Legislature. My statement may benefit some of those afflicted with this disease.

For several years I have been afflicted with Catarrh, I have tried many prescriptions for it without receiving any benefit therefrom. I have taken your medicine about ten months, and it has cured me. I would recommend to those afflicted with this disorder to apply to you. I am confident if they will strictly follow your directions that a cure will be effected, however inveterate the case may be. Respectfully yours, IRA FISH.

From the Rev. P. R. Russell, Lynn, Mass.

I have been much troubled with Catarrh of the worst type for some twenty years. It gradually grew worse, producing cough and hoarseness, destroying the sense of smell, and breaking down my general health to such a degree as to compel me to resign my pastorate and suspend public speaking.

I made diligent use of the usual remedies, such as snuffs of different kinds, nitrate of silver, tar water, olive tar and inhalations, but without any very salutary effects. Last Summer I heard of Dr. Lighthill's successful mode of treating catarrh, visited him, and put myself under his treatment. I began immediately to improve, and this improvement has gone on to the present time. My catarrh has gradually melted away, my cough has disappeared, my voice has become natural, and I am once more able to preach the blessed Gospel. Let me advise all troubled with catarrhal difficulties to apply to Dr. Lighthill. P. R. RUSSELL.

LYNN, MASS., Feb. 1, 1862.

For eight or nine years I have been afflicted with the most offensive of diseases, Catarrh. For the last two years I have suffered much with a dull, heavy pain over my eyes and on the top of my head; and the sense of smell entirely gone. I have used many different remedies, and consulted many physicians in order to obtain relief, but without any beneficial results until I applied to Dr. Lighthill. My head is entirely free and clear of pain, my sense of smell has returned, and my health is better generally—in fact, I feel like a new man. For the great benefit I have received of Dr. Lighthill, I gratefully sign myself. ISAAC H. WHITING,
Foreman of the General Advertiser.

PROVIDENCE, March 12, 1861.

BOSTON, May 20, 1862.

DR. LIGHTHILL—Sir: I take great pleasure in saying that the course of treatment prescribed by you for Catarrh in my head and throat has had the happiest effect.

I had been troubled for several years, assuming of late a dangerous form, and threatened serious consequences, but thanks to your skill I am now quite recovered.

Yours truly, WM. N. MOWER,
Mower & Co., Bangor and Boston Express.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call: it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1834. Those who have used their advertisements are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. DR HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system No. 3 Division-st, New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to guarantee speedy and permanent cures. N. ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than two thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful matter who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then proclaim that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

Death of a Police Captain.

Capt. PETER SQUIRES, of the Second Precinct, died yesterday morning, at his residence in Second-avenue, after a long and painful illness. He was about 48 years of age, and a native of this State. Capt. SQUIRES was appointed under the administration of Mayor BRADY, in 1847, and was therefore one of the oldest Captains on the force. He was first sent to the Eleventh Ward, where he served in the capacity of Captain for several years, to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. He was then sent to the Second Precinct, where he was at the time of his death. A family, consisting of a wife and six children, are left to deplore his loss. His funeral will take place on Thursday next, at 11 A. M., from Dr. SMITH'S Church, corner of Ridge and Broome streets. It will be attended by the officers of the Department generally.

In the death of Capt. SQUIRES the Metropolitan Police have sustained a sad and irreparable loss. As a man he has always sustained an unblemished reputation; as a citizen he was earnest and highly patriotic; as a husband and father always faithful and affectionate; and as an Officer of the force he was, for the fifteen years during which he served the people of this City, always sound cool, firm, bold and efficient. His general intelligence and extended experience gave him an influence and a position in the Department which none could question. His death will be regretted by a large circle of friends and fellow officers.

A meeting of the force of the Second Precinct was held last evening, and the following is an official report of their proceedings:

At a meeting of the Second Precinct Metropolitan Police, held at the Station-house, No. 49 Beekman-street, on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst PETER SQUIRES, late Captain of this Precinct; and whereas, we feel deeply his loss, both as a man and an officer; therefore,

Resolved, That in his death we have lost a valued companion and a true friend; and that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family of the deceased in this their hour of affliction, we being with them great sufferers by his removal from our midst.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be transmitted to the family of our late Captain, as an expression of our sympathy and condolence in their behalf. Sergt. M. B. WILSON, Chairman.

Sergt. J. J. ESTERBROOK, Secretary.

The Union Home Fair.

A SCORE OF CHURCHES REPRESENTED—A GRAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

The Fair of the Union Home and School, established for the aid and instruction of the children of Union soldiers, opened yesterday at the City Assembly Rooms, on Broadway. Some thirty or forty of our leading Church congregations contribute articles, and will be represented at the various tables. Among the Churches thus participating are the Allen-street Presbyterian, Sixteenth-street Baptist, Dr. HUTTON'S, (Dutch Reformed,) on University-place, the Berean Chapel, the Willett-street Methodist, Dr. GILLETT'S, on Twenty-third-street, &c., &c.

A very large number of public schools, also, are represented among them—those on Twenty-eighth, Fortieth, Forty-second, Eighty-seventh, One Hundred and Fiftieth, Broome and Grand streets.

The Committee of Lady Managers consists of Mrs. DRAKE MILLS, President; Mrs. Robert Anderson, Honorary President; Mrs. Dr. Winslow, Secretary; Mrs. John Voorhis, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. O. M. Devoe, Treasurer of the School. Their object in this Fair is the collection of a fund of a few thousand dollars, to enable them to erect a building for the accommodation of about 100 children of volunteers, whom they cannot now so conveniently assist. The Home is already crowded to excess, and the managers are continually receiving applications from the Relief Committees of the City for others, for whom they are at present unable to provide. More than one hundred children now require some such home. It is therefore hoped that our citizens will view the Fair with the favor its noble purpose merits, and liberally patronize a charity that is to benefit the little ones whose fathers are absent fighting the battles of the country, or have already fallen in its defence.

The main hall of the Assembly Rooms is devoted to the festival, and is beautifully ornamented with the national flag and wreaths of evergreens. In the centre of the floor is a temple some nine feet high, of pine boughs and roses, sheltering a beautiful draped figure of the Goddess of Liberty, presented by the Willett-street congregation. The tables are ranged along all the four sides of the hall, with spaces open only for the doors and passage-ways. The decorations were not quite completed yesterday, but will be to-day. It may be mentioned, to indicate the richness and eccentricity of some of the contributions, that a doll bride, with all her toilette and furniture, is valued at $150, and a single doll at $100. On the Grand-street table there will be a superb worsted worked "Afghan," valued at $100. The children of the Home School will have a very handsome table, and contribute eighteen fine evergreen wreaths worked by themselves.

In the refreshment rooms will be six grand tables, provided by the different churches, and receiving fresh comestibles throughout the week. The piano, whose delightful music will cheer the scene, is from the noted establishment of HORACE WATERS. The Fair will continue throughout the week, day and evening, until Saturday night next, and a variety of entertainments will diversify its progress. To-night, commencing at 7½, will be given a grand vocal concert by 150 children of the school, assisted by the juvenile choir, and as their proficiency and the selection of pieces are alike excellent, will be very attractive. Parties holding green tickets are informed, by request of the ladies, that their admission is for the season. White tickets admit once, and the red ones are purchased at the door.

Lieut.-Gen. Winfield Scott.

The veteran hero, Lieut.-Gen. WINFIELD SCOTT, once more visits the City of New-York, and has taken apartments at Delmonico's, Fourteenth-street and Fifth-avenue. Since his arrival many of his old associates in arms and other personal admirers have called to welcome and have a shake of the distinguished old soldier's hand.

On a call, by one of the latter, he was cordially welcomed by the General, whom he found enjoying the society of two lads, his grandchildren. The veteran is pleased to see his friends, but the necessity and propriety of not making visits too long will suggest themselves. As to his spirits, they are excellent, and his feelings cordial and hearty as ever. His health is what he terms good, though he suffers from an affection of the spine, which prevents him from walking as much as he would wish; still he generally walks to his church and takes some moderate strolls. He remarked:

"I am now going up to fourscore years, a longer period than the Great Disposer of events permits many men to live, yet I praise Him that still my mental faculties are unimpaired, and that they are as vigorous as ever. I just had a visit from a friend, hoary-headed like myself, and my senior in years; yet he and I were conversing upon matters that occurred forty and fifty years ago—matters which are as vivid to my memory now as at the periods they happened. True, it is, that old age will shake the best of men; but when a young man I was very strong and possessed of an excellent constitution. Besides these, I was of a very determined resolution."

The General is most scrupulous in attendance at church, and is a close and constant student of the Word of God. His reverence for and gratitude to his Creator is one of the many marked characteristics of the venerable Christian. He expects to remain in the City during the Winter, and his apartments are arranged with that view. As he has been all his life he is now, an early riser, his breakfast hour being eight. After this he drives out; writes and reads; a short nap during the day, and he retires at 10 o'clock.

On the subject of the war the General is reticent. It gives him pain. To a question in regard to it, he shook his head, replying, "That is a matter I do not talk upon; it is a subject for others to discuss, and not for me to dwell upon in my old age. It is in other hands, and must now engross the attention of other heads."

When his carriage awaits him at Delmonico's, and it is known to be Gen. SCOTT'S, a crowd of persons, anxious to have a glance at the esteemed and respected veteran, gather around it. He is most courteous, and has a kind "How do you do?" for all.

It may be stated in this connection that the General is understood to have been devoting a very large portion of his time for a long while past to writing; the subject of his labor is not definitely known, but if the result is for the world, it will be one of greatest value and importance, and also be another monument to one of the greatest and most successful warriors of the age in which he lived.

ANNIVERSARY OF JOHN-STREET METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—On Sunday last, the ninety-fifth anniversary of this ancient edifice of Methodism in America, was celebrated by a large and highly respectable assemblage. The ceremonies commenced at 9½ o'clock in the morning with a "Love Feast," a religious ordinance which is coeval with Methodism itself. At 12 o'clock Rev. Mr. DASHIEL, of Jersey City, preached an impressive and eloquent sermon, in which he took occasion to refer affectingly to the old "Homestead" of Methodism. In the evening prayer meeting commenced at 6 o'clock, and continued up to 7½ o'clock, after which Rev. Mr. COCKMAN delivered a very able discourse to a large audience, during which he took occasion to review the rise and progress of Methodism from the days of WESLEY up to the present time, and referred particularly to its increased usefulness all over the globe. This discourse was followed by a very forcible and appropriate address by Rev. Mr. CARROLL, Pastor of the Church. He stated that the expenses of the current year were $3,000, and that there still remained $15,000 debt upon the building. These impressive services concluded with a collection, which turned out to be a very handsome one.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. MARSTON may be congratulated on the great success which he is now winning. During the first and second weeks of the season, the very plague itself seemed to have descended upon the company. Disappointments were of frequent occurrence, and neither the opera nor the singer could be depended upon for more than an hour at the time. If the weather and the press had not been equally favorable there is no knowing what might have happened to the management. All these little troubles are now happily at an end. Two unquestionable successes were achieved last week. "Martha," with Miss KELLOGG, and "Macbeth," with Mme. MEDORI. The latter of these works was repeated last night for the second time. An admirable attendance was present, and testified its approval of the opera in the heartiest way. The performance was much better than on the first night. It is always so when the company feels confident of success, and knows that it is directly contributing to it. Mme. MEDORI sang and acted with great dramatic power and skill. In a work like this there is scope for the varied abilities of this veritable prima donna. Her large voice is amply provided for by the composer, and there are opportunities for rolling it out in a highly impressive way. Mme. MEDORI was received with enthusiasm, and had to repeat her principal morceaux. Signor BELLINI was again in excellent voice. We have no recollection of ever having heard him to greater advantage. The entire performance was much above the average.

On Wednesday evening "Il Trovatore" will be played. On Thursday there will be a performance at the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

WINTER GARDEN.—Mr. J. S. CLARKE made a couple of additions to his programme last night, namely, TOM TAYLOR'S comedy called the "Babes in the Wood," and the farce "My Neighbor's Wife." Both pieces are too well known to need comment. They act as an agreeable vehicle for Mr. J. S. CLARKE'S admirable acting, and we need scarcely add that, from the beginning to the end, that gentleman keeps the house in a constant roar of laughter. In the comedy, Miss CLIFTON played the rôle of the heroine in a thoroughly artistic and creditable manner. This excellent actress only needs the opportunity to make her mark before our public. She is always natural, quiet and graceful—points of merit that are not often found together. The performances concluded with the "Russian Admiral."

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—MATILDA HERON commenced an engagement here last evening, appearing, as usual, as the heroine of her own version of "Camille." The house was crowded, and the lady was received with great favor. Beyond placing this pleasant fact on record it is unnecessary to expatiate. MATILDA HERON is too well known to call for criticism. The play was cast to the full strength of the company.

ALHAMBRA CIRCUS.—The huge tent, which during the past week took itself off to Brooklyn, has again returned to Fourteenth-street, where its proprietors recommenced operations yesterday. Several new features have been added to the programme, for particulars of which it will be necessary to consult our advertising columns. An extraordinary bill is offered to-night for the benefit of that wonderful equestrian, Mr. EATON STONE. On Friday the Assistant-Manager, Mr. L. NIXON, will also take a complimentary benefit. From these straws, we conjecture that the Alhambra Circus does not intend remaining long at its present location.

PARK THEATRE.—Excellent houses continue to be attracted to this snug little establishment. The Brooklyn people—considering how they have had their gayety preached down—take kindly enough to dramatic entertainments. The Park Theatre is crowded every night, and even that Court of the Elect—the Brooklyn Academy of Music—is filled to overflowing, whenever the profanities of the playhouse are permitted there. The directors indulge in the economical luxury of sin at half price, whilst the citizens themselves go the entire figure without hesitation or remorse. Mr. GABRIEL HARRISON has provided a new programme for the present week. "Kate Kearney" is the first piece, and the "Two Bonnycastles" bring the entertainments to a close.

IRVING HALL.—Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S third concert will take place to-morrow evening. Miss FANNIE RIDDEL, Mr. WM. CASTLE, Mr. THEODORE THOMAS, Mr. HARRY SANDERSON and Mr. S. BEHRENS assist Mr. GOTTSCHALK. The lady is a debutante and pupil of Signor MUZIO.

THEATRE FRANCAIS.—Mr. JUIGNET opens his charming little establishment at Niblo's to-night. We have already published the names of the additions to his company, and it is only necessary to say that several of the new members will appear to-night in "Le Battaille de Dames, on un duel en Amour," a three-act comedy by Messrs. SCRIBE and LEGOUVE. The office for the sale of reserved seats is still at the store of H. DARDONVILLE, No. 623 Broadway.

GRAND PATRIOTIC ENTERTAINMENT, (BROOKLYN.)—On Tuesday evening of next week there will be given at the Brooklyn Academy of Music a grand patriotic entertainment for the benefit of the widows and children of the deceased soldiers of that city. It is contemplated to make this one of the grandest affairs on the record of the brilliant establishment in which it will be given. Until the later hours of the night, the usual festivities attending an ordinary Promenade Concert will be enjoyed, when the older, or rather the graver portion of the assemblage will retire, leaving the others to trip the light, &c, until dawn, for their own gratification and the pecuniary relief of the honored poor. The affair is under the charge of the following well-known citizens: Messrs. E. J. Lowber, A. Cooke Hull, M. D., C. A. Townsend, J. W. Degraw, J. F. Talmage, M. D., L. B. Wyman, E. S. Mills, A. E. Sumner, G. W. Hennings and W. M. Newell, besides a General Committee consisting of 200 of the most prominent youth of the city.

BENEFIT FOR THE DRAMATIC FUND.—The benefit for the Dramatic Fund takes place to-morrow evening at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn Miss CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN appearing as Lady Macbeth. Profiting by the disgraceful speculation on the occasion of the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, the committee will dispose of the seats at auction, and thus baffle speculators. The sale will take place this morning at 10½ o'clock, at No. 111 Broadway.

ELOCUTION.—Mr. J. B. BROWN, Professor of Elocution, will give an entertainment at Dodworth's Hall to-night, in aid of the Bell Institute for the orphan daughters of volunteers.

LECTURE ON THE WOMEN OF TURKEY.—The marked success which attended Mr. OSCANYAN'S lectures on "The Women of Turkey," has induced him to announce its repetition on Thursday evening, at Niblo's Saloon. The intimate acquaintance of the lecturer with his subject, together with the living illustrations, tableaux, Oriental music, etc., make this a most interesting as well as instructive mode of passing an evening.
